

Graduate Funding Update

1. The Dean's in-course scholarships are being replaced to support entrance scholarships of $5000 each. Criteria not finalized, but preference is targeted to students (> 80%) recruited by early career researchers, researchers facing interruptions to obtaining funding, teaching focused faculty.

SOCS has two awards for S23, F23, W24. Must be processed by the beginning of first semester. Applies to MSc/PhD either domestic or international.

Graduate Funding Update

1. The Dean's in-course scholarships are being replaced to support entrance scholarships of $5000 each. Criteria not finalized, but preference is targeted to students (> 80%) recruited by early career researchers, researchers facing interruptions to obtaining funding, teaching focused faculty.

SOCS has two awards for S23, F23, W24. Must be processed by the beginning of first semester. Applies to MSc/PhD either domestic or international.

2. OGPS has provided CEPS with support in the amount of $6000/year (for two years) for 10 international MSc students admitted between now and March 15, 2023. SOCS has been allocated two awards.

Please let Jennifer know by March 1st if you plan to admit a qualifying student. This effectively replaces any request for additional funding from OGPS (in the short term).

Graduate Funding Update

1. The Dean's in-course scholarships are being replaced to support entrance scholarships of $5000 each. Criteria not finalized, but preference is targeted to students (> 80%) recruited by early career researchers, researchers facing interruptions to obtaining funding, teaching focused faculty.

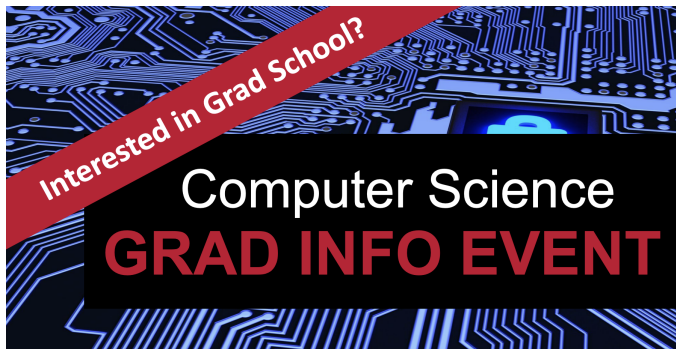

SOCS has two awards for S23, F23, W24. Must be processed by the beginning of first semester. Applies to MSc/PhD either domestic or international.

2. OGPS has provided CEPS with support in the amount of $6000/year (for two years) for 10 international MSc students admitted between now and March 15, 2023. SOCS has been allocated two awards.

Please let Jennifer know by March 1st if you plan to admit a qualifying student. This effectively replaces any request for additional funding from OGPS (in the short term).

3. International Masters Tuition Scholarship (IMTS): available in the amount of $10,000/year (for two years) for thesis-based masters students and $6,000/year (one year) for course-based masters students.

The award is available to international students who have completed a four-year undergrad at U of G.

- > Learn about our graduate funding opportunities*, programs, and research areas
- > Speak to our faculty and ask questions
- > Enjoy coffee/tea and cookies on us!

*New $10,000 tuition reduction per year for international students completing an undergrad at Guelph

Tuesday February 28, 2023